DIVINE ALLEGES CHURCH RIVALRY

"ASTOUNDING WASTE AND INEFFICIENCY" IS DR. PEACH'S PLEA FOR MERGER OF CHURCHES.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Charging that "the competitions and rivalries of evangelical denominations in the United States have resulted in an astounding waste and inefficiency" and that 86 per cent of the Protestant churches have a total seating capacity of more than 50,000,000, or three times their requirement, the Rev. Dr. Robert Westly Peach, pastor of a Reformed Episcopal Church in Newark, N. J., makes a plea for organic union of 22 national church bodies.

Dr. Peach's recommendations, together with others, will be discussed by the Interchurch Council on Organic Union, which begins a four days' session in Philadelphia today. The Newark clergyman is one of 50 composing the Ad Interim Committee representing various Protestant denominations which was appointed last December upon an invitation by the Presbyterian church, to approve a plan for bringing about a merger. In his statement, a minority report, he declared that Protestants had built perhaps "100,000 superfluous churches at a cost of $500,000,000."

"If not a single church had been built in the past 13 years," he said, "those standing in 1906 would accommodate at a single service every Protestant communicant of the year 1919 and every Roman Catholic in our country, baptized infants included, and, besides, every man, woman and child in Canada, Cuba and Porto Rico and there would still be much room to spare."

"These 86 per cent of our churches reported over three sittings for every communicant. At the same time, the Roman Catholic churches reporting had one sitting for every two and one-fourth members—a ratio of nearly seven to one in our disfavor. The Roman churches are crowded, ours, on an average less than one-quarter filled—for it is the exceptional church which, at its principal Sunday service, has an attendance equalling 80 per cent of its communicant roll."

The upkeep and the salaries incident to maintaining services in Protestant churches, Dr. Peach said, "make necessary the raising annually of millions of wasted dollars, make necessary, moreover, grueling efforts to raise this money. Inevitably there has arisen The Great Protestant Order of Mendicant Pastors and Sisters, unincorporated. Inevitably also has followed a widespread confusion of church members, weary of continual solicitations to give outright and to buy tickets for suppers, entertainments, bazaars, etc. Not the giving has repelled, in most instances, continued Dr. Peach, for the American people are generous—but the needless calls for uneconomic giving."

"Upon members who remain steadfast have fallen the heavier burdens," he said. "This deflection also is mainly responsible for increasing the two out of three empty pews caused by over-churching to three

Locomotive Engineer Saves Lives of Many Of His Passengers

By the Associated Press
LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 3.—A story of heroic action on the part of a locomotive engineer, which probably saved the lives of many passengers, recently printed in Excelsior, a daily of Mexico City. The engineer, the paper said, was too modest to permit the use of his name.

In the state of Zacatecas, the newspaper said, the engineer of a passenger train received word that a locomotive had been turned loose to run wild by a bandit chieftain named Jaral, with the purpose of destroying a passenger train approaching from San Isidor.

Hastily uncoupling his own engine from its train, the engineer took up a mad ride and finally ran the pilot of his locomotive into the rear of the "wild engine". Leaving his own engine in charge of the fireman, the engineer crawled over the tender of the "wild" machine, shut off its steam and stopped it just in time to prevent it crashing into the San Isidor passenger train. The "wild" engine was found to be filled with dynamite and other explosives.

Passengers of the threatened train "went wild with joy", Excelsior said, "and presented everything they could to the hero."

Drunkenness and Gross Neglect Wife Charges

Lillie Ford by her attorney, R. W. Stewart, filed suit for divorce from her husband, Lee Ford, in district court yesterday.

Plaintiff in her petition alleges gross neglect and drunkenness. She states that she married defendant in this county on January 25, 1919. That defendant failed and refused to support plaintiff and left her to suffer for the necessities of life, in consequence of which she had to work to support herself. She alleges further that defendant was in the habit of getting drunk and would come home at any hour, day or night in a maudlin condition. Wherefore plaintiff prays for divorce from the said defendant.

AWAITING WORD FROM AVIATORS

AMERICAN AVIATORS ARRESTED BY MEXICANS AS THEY ALIGHT FROM PLANE BY ACCIDENT.

By the Associated Press
EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 3.—Word was awaited today concerning Lieut. G. L. Usher and L. M. Wolf, American army aviators stationed at Fort Bliss who were captured yesterday by Mexican soldiers near Nacozari, state of Sonora, Mexico, and who are technically under arrest. The Americans on a flight from Fort Bliss to Nogales, Arizona, became lost yesterday and were 16 kilometers south of Nogales when engine trouble necessitated a forced landing. Major General Robert L. Howze, commander of the El Paso district, said he anticipated no difficulty in obtaining the release of the aviators.

Reports last night said the Americans were being treated with consideration. It was said their machine was damaged in making the landing. Whether it can be repaired so as to make the return trip under its own power is questionable.

Mexican Federal Revenues Reported To Be On Increase

By the Associated Press
JUAREZ, Mex., Feb. 3.—Probable revenues of the Mexican federal government for the year 1920 are estimated at 167,800,000 pesos in a preliminary report of the ministry of finance, made public here by J. Felipe Valle, collector of customs. This is equivalent to approximately $83,900,250 in American money. The calculation is based on revenues of 1918 compared with figures so far obtainable for 1919.

Of the estimated total revenues, 40,000,000 pesos is expected from import and 80,000,000 from export duties, according to the report. It proposes little variation from present revenue laws and says increased receipts are expected from revival of commerce and industry which has been noted during 1919.

Referring to the great preponderance of imports from the United States in 1918, due to interruption of trade with Europe, the report calls attention to a large proportional increase of imports from Europe in 1919. This increase was especially noticeable regarding Spain, from which country the imports for the first three months of 1919 exceeded the entire amount for 1918, according to the report.

Hide Stealing Charge Against Francis Citizen

Roy Pritchard was bound over to the district court on a charge of grand larceny yesterday and his bond fixed at $500.00. In default of bail he was remanded to the county jail.

Pritchard is charged with stealing some hides from a firm at Francis and selling them to an Ada dealer. He skipped the country and was arrested at Gunter, Texas, by Grayson county officers. Deputy Sheriff Claude Chandler went to Sherman County and brought Pritchard back to Ada.

The Anti-Saloon League having decreed that no candidate with any suspicion of "dampness" about his person will be acceptable, it is plain enough that neither the governor of New York nor Mr. Elihu Root is wasting any time on Presidential aspirations.

THE SOCIALISTS DEFEND SOVIET

EXPELLED MEMBERS OF THE NEW YORK ASSEMBLY WILL TRY TO DEFEND THE RUSSIAN SOVIET

By the Associated Press
ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 3.—With the prosecution resuming today presentation of its case and requiring at least three days to put in all its evidence of alleged disloyalty concerning the five socialist members of the assembly, it has been learned that attorneys will call in defense witnesses who personally have observed changing conditions in Russia during the last few years.

While the defense would not name these witnesses it was said they were persons who had seen the downfall of the Romanoffs, the rise and fall of the Kerensky government and the introduction of the Lenin and Trotsky regime. Their testimony followed an effort by the counsel commission to link the socialists of America with the Bolsheviks of Russia which will be introduced in an attempt to show that conditions in Russia have been misrepresented and that the present rulers are not so bad as they have been painted. How much latitude the defense will be allowed in introducing testimony of this nature will rest with Lieut. Martin, committee chairman.

Insofar as the prosecution has attempted to prove disloyalty of the socialist party by its attitude toward war and its alleged accusations of violence, it has been indicated that the defense will see that many of the offences charged up against the socialists should be checked off on account of the organization of the left wing, communist and communist labor elements who recently broke from the party.

Wife Deserted Her Husband Is His Allegation

Suit for divorce from his wife, Lela Arrey, was filed in district court yesterday by Key Arrey. He is represented by C. F. Green.

Plaintiff alleges that he married defendant in Ada in July 1912. That without any cause, excuse or provocation defendant abandoned plaintiff in 1915 and has lived apart from him and has not communicated with him since. Wherefore plaintiff prays for divorce.

Best Mothers In London's East Side Are Jews 'Tis Said

By the Associated Press
LONDON, Feb. 3.—The best mothers in London's East Side, the poor district, are Jewish, in the opinion of Dr. C. W. Saleeby, chairman of the National Birthrate Commission, as expressed in an address at University College. Dr. Saleeby added that Irish mothers were not a bad second, and that the English ranked as a very bad third.

He explained that in the case of the Jewish and Irish mother this was a direct result of race ethics. Breast feeding was virtually universal among them, and there was a minimum of that dreaded disease arising from immorality. He declared that infant mortality was not really a medical problem, but a social problem of motherhood and a question of racial morals.

During his address Dr. Saleeby quoted figures showing that despite bad housing, bad sanitation and virtually no child welfare efforts, infant mortality in Western Ireland was only about 35 per thousand, as compared with 133 in 1,000 in Bradford, England, which has the best equipment for infant welfare in the world.

Flu Doctor Is Too Busy To Attend Court To Pay Speeding Fine

By the Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 3.—Too busy attending influenza patients to appear in police court to answer to a charge of violating regulations for parking motor cars, a doctor of this city sent the judge a signed check and note. The note said: "I'm guilty but I'm too busy with influenza patients to come to court. Please fill in the enclosed check for the amount of my fine."

The judge tore up the check.

School Board Is Sustained by District Court

The application of certain citizens for a permanent order restraining the school board from transferring certain grades from the South Ward to the Hays school came up for hearing before Judge Bolen this morning. The petitioners were represented by B. C. King, R. M. Roddie and J. W. Dean. The school board was represented by C. E. B. Cutler.

The result of the hearing was a modification of the temporary order sustaining in effect the action of the board. All pupils below the fifth grade in the South Ward will continue in school at the High School. The fifth, sixth, and seventh grade pupils will go to the Hays school. As we understand it, this was the arrangement originally made by the board.

WHAT WILL ADA DO ABOUT THIS?

Some time ago the Evening News suggested that the City of Ada investigate the possibility of getting located here the big university that the Southern Methodists contemplate establishing in Oklahoma.

It is announced that the board having charge of the selection of the site for the university will meet in Oklahoma City, March 3, and at that time will select the city in which the university will be built.

It may not be possible for Ada to obtain this institution. We do not know. But it will be impossible, most assuredly, for us to obtain this school unless we go after it and go after it strong.

Ada has advantages for such an institution that can be offered by few other cities in Oklahoma. Accessibility from every section of the state, an abundant supply of the best water, an adequate supply of gas right at the city's gates, health conditions that are unsurpassed, a class of citizenship absolutely free from the riff raff element usually found about the oil and mining cities. These advantages can be placed before the board and will make a splendid appeal.

But nothing comes to the city that waits. An institution costing millions of dollars will not go begging. Many cities are after this University. The one that is most active and has the greatest inducements to offer will get it. What will Ada do about it?

LAWYER OUTLINES NEWBERRY CASE

PATRIOTISM OF PEOPLE AND NOT MONEY WAS CAUSE OF NEWBERRY'S ELECTION.

By the Associated Press
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 3.—Truman H. Newberry entered the 1918 senatorial proceedings in Michigan at the solicitation of others and not in furtherance of a scheme to get a seat in the senate, said James O. Muffin of Detroit, in outlining to the jury in United States district court the attitude the defense will assume towards the charges of conspiracy and fraud for which 123 men are on trial.

"Our country was at war," Judge Muffin told the jurors, "and as the campaign began to live up, we had just passed our first year of participation and the situation was critical in the extreme."

"The records will show that Michigan sent to this war 150,000 young men in the army, navy and marine corps. They left behind them relatives and friends."

"While there had been rumors in Michigan that Henry Ford would be a candidate for the senate his candidacy was actually announced on June 14, 1918. Rightly or wrongly, there was a general feeling that Mr. Ford did not represent the type of American who at this critical time should be sent to the senate."

"This combination of circumstances roused many a man in Michigan to the belief that it was his patriotic duty to do all in his power to assure the selection of Commander Newberry and we expect to conclusively show that they were prompted not by pay but by patriotism, that they were actuated not by avarice but by Americanism."

The new woman voter, who at first only asked equality of privileges, now wants to be "better half" in politics as elsewhere.

A young man named Daniels was picked up on the streets of Ada about 2 o'clock this morning by the city police and conveyed to the city jail for refreshment and repose. Daniels had evidently failed to hear the curfew ring toll the knell of parting day and no doubt had for gotten that when anyone roams the streets of Ada long past midnight he must have some good excuse for his nocturnal habits. At any rate he was assessed $10.75 by the mayor on a charge of loitering and in default of payment is still in the city jail.

John Rawls Will Seek Nomination For Sheriff

John Rawls of Ada announces that he will be a candidate for the democratic nomination for sheriff in the August primary and that a formal announcement of his candidacy will appear soon. He has had the matter of making the race under consideration for some time, and informs the Evening News that he has definitely decided to be a candidate.

Mr. Rawls is now serving as chief of police of Ada, a position he has held with eminent satisfaction to the public for a number of years. He is an exceptionally able peace officer, and his wide acquaintance among the voters of the county will tend to make him a formidable candidate.

The plan approved by an Ad Interim Committee of 50 Protestant clergymen of various denominations appointed last December, carries a preamble declaring faith in God and other fundamentals of Christianity as "a common heritage of the evangelical churches." It provides (1) complete autonomy in purely denominational affairs; (2) formation of a Council, a representative body, meeting biennially through which the united church will act; (3) representation to be on the basis of two ministers and two laymen for the first 100,000 communicants and two ministers and two laymen for each additional 200,000 or major fraction thereof; (4) that constituent churches except as limited by the plan, "shall continue the exercise of their several powers and functions as the same exist under the denominational constitution;" (5) that the Council shall harmonize and unify the work of the churches, including missionary activities, evangelism, social service and religious education.

It is pointed out the recommendations of the Ad Interim Committee are but steps in a movement for creating "a real ecclesiastical entity, with ecclesiastical powers, holding and administering ecclesiastical property and funds of such united church." This it is said, may require a trying out period. "After the plan shall have been in operation for a term of years," the announcement states, "the importance of divisive names and creeds and methods will pass more and more into the dim background of the past, and acquire, even in the particular denomination itself, a merely historical value, and the churches then will be ready for and will demand a more complete union."

The form of union advocated, it is declared, "does not interject into the deliberations of the Council any disputatious topic, any question of the validity of orders or of the modes and subjects of baptism or of the formulation of a specific or comprehensive creed." The hope is expressed that "the evangelical churches may give themselves with a new faith and ardor to the proclamation of the Gospel, which is the only hope of our stricken world, and to all those ministries of Christian love and leading for the community, the nation and the nations, by which they shall reveal to men

MERGE CHURCHES UNDER NEW PLAN

AT BIG MEETING TOMORROW 22 DENOMINATIONS WILL PARTICIPATE IN MERGER MOVEMENT

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—An outline of the plan for a merger of approximately 22 evangelical Protestant church bodies, under the name of The United Church of Christ in America, which is to be acted upon by the Interchurch Council on Organic Union at a three-day conference beginning in Philadelphia tomorrow, was made public here today at the headquarters of the Presbyterian church, the originators of the movement.

The plan approved by an Ad Interim Committee of 50 Protestant clergymen of various denominations appointed last December, carries a preamble declaring faith in God and other fundamentals of Christianity as "a common heritage of the evangelical churches." The Red Flame Now Burning Heart Out Of North Dakota

By the Associated Press
BISMARCK, N. D., Feb. 3.—Nationwide attention has been attracted by the publication here the past two months of a monthly magazine entitled "The Red Flame That is Burning the Heart out of North Dakota."

According to its promoters the magazine is aimed at participation of certain leaders in the affairs of the Nonpartisan League and at elements in the state which the editors declare to be dangerously radical and socialistic. It is issued under the name of the Citizens Economy League, an organization with headquarters at Bismarck.

The first issue of "The Red Flame" appeared on November 13th. Since that time, the publishers state, inquiries for it have been received from practically all parts of the country, from Canada and from Mexico. They state further that its circulation has increased from 15,000 to 30,000 and that it now is going to dealers in 14 states.

The magazine appears in 40 pages, replete with numerous cartoons. Its editors disclaim opposition to the farmers' movement.

Tractor Show Will Draw Students From 3 Southwest States

By the Associated Press
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 3.—Students of rural engineering at the agricultural colleges of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Illinois, Iowa, Colorado and Nebraska are to be the guests of the Fifth Annual National Tractor Show here February 20. The tractor show opens February 16 and continues through the 21st.

February 20 will be "rural engineering" day at the show. E. B. McCormick, chief of the division of rural engineering, U. S. department of agriculture, has accepted an invitation to take personal charge of the program for that day.

Four acres of floor space is to be devoted to the demonstration of tractors. One carload of exhibits has arrived from California. A feature of the show will be the motion pictures which will show the tractors at work in the fields. This is expected to take the place of the usual demonstrations.

The influx of new immigrants has prompted a proposal by Dr. Juan Carlos Garay, professor of Law in the University of Buenos Aires, to propose enactment of a law making naturalization obligatory without renunciation of citizenship in the country of birth. Professor Garay hopes in that way to solve the problem presented by failure of so many foreign-born persons to become citizens and take part in the affairs and politics of the country. He admits that this is a revolution ary doctrine but contends that for Argentina its advantages would outweigh the disadvantages.

Rain in Yuma, Arizona, for the first time in 45 years must have caused greater excitement and wonder than even a flurry of snow in balm Florida.

NAVY UNPREPARED SAYS ROOSEVELT

NAVY'S ASSISTANT SECRETARY DESCRIBES CONDITION OF THINGS AT OUTSET OF WAR.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—In describing alleged conditions of unpreparedness in the American navy prior to the war with Germany, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt declared yesterday in an address at Brooklyn that as the result of his efforts to obtain an adequate program of action he had "committed enough illegal acts to put him in jail for 999 years." He said he undoubtedly would have been impeached if he had made "wrong guesses."

"Two months after war was declared," said Mr. Roosevelt, "I saw that the navy was still unprepared, and I spent $40,000,000 for buns before congress gave me or any one else permission to spend any money."

The assistant secretary said that before the war he was "opposed by the president, who said that he did not want to commit any overt act of war, but who added that he was following a definite course in an effort to avert war."

In March, 1917, Mr. Roosevelt said, he suggested Admiral Sims as the head of the inter-allied fleet. He paid a tribute to Annapolis naval academy and said that the 3,000 officers and students there at the outbreak of the war deserved much credit for helping to train the great naval forces.

Explaining how Admiral Sims went first to Europe, Mr. Roosevelt said that early in 1917 he was called to Washington hurriedly when a request was received from the British admiralty that an American admiral be sent over to become acquainted with European conditions.

"In conveying this information to President Wilson in the presence of Secretary Daniels," he continued, "President Wilson turned to Mr. Daniels and asked, 'Who shall we send?' Mr. Daniels said there were several men that could be sent over and he suggested that he be given a few days to make a selection."

"On the spur of the moment I suggested Admiral Sims. Both President Wilson and Secretary Daniels agreed and it was decided that Admiral Sims start immediately."

When the war ended, Mr. Roosevelt said, the United States had in actual operation in European waters 350 vessels, exclusive of convoys.

The driest place in the world is the region between the two lower falls of the Nile. Rain has never been known to fall there.

HIGH OIL PRICE WILL STIMULATE GREAT ACTIVITY

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—The advance in the price of Pennsylvania crude oil to $5 a barrel will result in the widest search for petroleum this section has known since the early days of the "oil excitement," according to authorities in the industry here.

Already it has started, and leases are being taken on territory which was drilled over more than a half century ago and then abandoned for more productive fields. Drilling has been commenced in some of these leases, and results have been so good as to encourage others. One field in Allegheny county, abandoned in the early seventies because the one well drilled proved to be a "duster," has produced a number of wells the past few months.

"The greater part of this development will be in Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia," explained the head of a large corporation which has been developing oil territory for many years. "When oil was only a dollar a barrel one had to bring in a good well before he had a paying proposition. Now with oil at $5 a barrel it pays to drill a lot of wells, even though they only produce a barrel or two a day. We reduce expenses by connecting these small wells to one power plant and pumping them very thoroughly. While the initial cost of drilling is high, about three times as much as in the old days, economies of operation and the princely price of crude make hunting for the Pennsylvania grade a pretty profitable investment."

The companies engaged in this work are usually old time organizations which have no stock for sale and which cover thoroughly with leases all the territory in the immediate neighborhood of their operations.

Cherokee Indians Prohibitionists In The Early Days

TALEQUAH, Feb. 2.—Firewater was so little thought of by the authorities of the Cherokee nation in 1851 that a very strict law in reference to the national council in reference to the selling, possession or imbibing of the intoxicating liquor. Among other provisions contained in the act which was passed on the 7th day of November of the year above mentioned, was the following: "Be it enacted by the national council, that the sheriff of Talequah district be, and is hereby authorized and directed to appoint five suitable assistants, and if deemed necessary by him, five others, whose duty is hereby made to exert themselves in preserving order about the council ground during the session of the council."

The assistants were also authorized, empowered and directed to search for and to waste all whisky, or other spirituous liquors "that they may find within 10 miles of Talequah," and also to arrest and confine until duly sober any drunken person or persons, or others who may have become disorderly.

Going further the act specified that gambling should be discouraged, and the officers were authorized to report all gambling cases to the district solicitor or prosecuting attorney. The officers were directed to exercise special diligence during the "general convention of the people" to be held on the 17th day of November, 1851. Concerning compensation it was enacted that the officers be paid out of the national treasury, all of which was approved and signed by Thomas F. Taylor, president of the national committee and by the principal chief of the nation.

STALL'S STUDIO

IT ENABLED HER TO TAKE ALONG TRIP

"After years of suffering Tanlac sure put my wife in a fine state of health and she often boasts of how well she is feeling," said George H. Henkle, of 1302 Eastlands avenue, Nashville, Tenn.

"For years," he continued, "she was almost a confirmed dyspeptic and she suffered also from a nervous affection. Right after meals gas would form on her stomach, which kept her in distress most all the time. She always had to be most careful about her eating and was troubled at times with dizziness and swimming of the head. For a long time she had wanted to take a trip North, but couldn't do so on account of her condition."

When she saw Tanlac advertised and so many people endorsing it, she decided to try it and found almost immediate relief. Tanlac gave her a fine appetite and put her stomach in fine shape so she could eat and enjoy her meals without having any trouble afterwards. She hasn't complained of dizziness or swimming of the head since starting on it and that nervous condition has also quite disappeared. Tanlac built her up so she was enabled to take a trip North, where she was gone four months, and she wasn't sick a minute of the whole time she was away. She is delighted with what Tanlac has done for her and thinks there is no other medicine like it."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Co., in Stonewall by L. P. Carpenter, in Francis by Francis Drug Co., and in Roff by Dowdy's Pharmacy.

Rheumatism Relief—25c.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets). Are Helping Thousands Who Tried Expensive Things Without Result. It's Guaranteed.

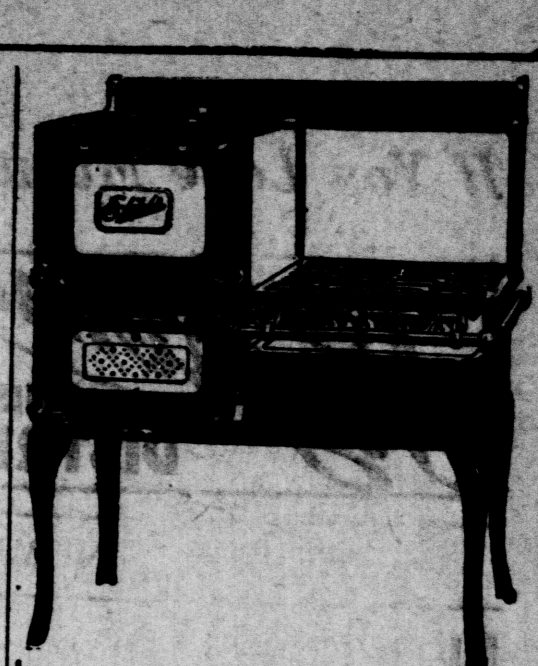

There are three vital processes of human existence—the digestion of food, the extraction of nourishment from it and the elimination of waste. Poor digestion and assimilation means failure to derive full nourishment from food and that in turn often means impoverished blood, weakness, anemia, etc. Poor elimination means an accumulation of waste matter which poisons the body, lowers vitality, decreases the power of resistance to disease and leads to the development of many serious ills.

Rheumatism, due to some interference with the process of elimination, failure to get rid of certain body poisons, cannot be expected to yield to any medicine that fails to correct the condition responsible for it. Could any reasonable person expect to rid himself of rheumatic pain as long as rheumatic poison is allowed to remain in the body?

Think of this. It explains the success of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) in so many cases where other medicines have failed. Thousands are using NR Tablets every day and getting relief. Why? Because they are getting as much for uncertain things? A 50c box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets), containing enough to last twenty-five days—must help you. Must give you prompt relief and satisfactory benefit or cost you nothing.

Nature's Remedy is not only for the relief of rheumatism. It improves digestion, tones the liver, regulates the blood and cleanses the system. You've tried the expensive medicines and doctors, now make the real test. You'll get results this time. Just try it. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) is sold, guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

Swift & Company Year Book 1920

Swift & Company was a favorite topic of conversation last year. Committees investigated it, commissions attacked it, law makers threatened it, many condemned it.

Presently people began to think about it; began to realize that Swift & Company was performing a necessary service in a big, efficient way; began to wonder whether it could be done as well in any other way.

Read what Swift & Company did last year, and what it meant to you, in the Swift & Company Year Book, just issued.

It's a fascinating narrative—simple facts in simple words. There is one ready for you. Send for it.

THE DIFFERENT LIGHTS.

"Well, hello, are you here?" asked the little green lights.
"Yes, are you here?" asked the little blue lights.
"And you're here too," said the yellow lights.
"Don't forget about us," said the little red lights, and the dark blue lights said:
"Don't forget about us just because our cousins, the light-blue lights are here."
"What are we here for?" asked the little green lights.
"That sounds funny," said the little blue lights.
"What sounds funny?" asked the little green lights.
"What you just said," answered the little blue lights.
"You asked what were we here for."
"Do you know?" asked the little green lights.
"No," said the little blue lights.
"Then it doesn't strike us it's such a funny question," said the little green lights.
"It seems funny that we shouldn't know, either of us," said the little blue lights.
"We know why we're here," said the little yellow lights.
"How very bright of you," said the others.
"You see when they were putting us up they tried us to see how we worked."

"Danced and Sparkled."

They lighted us, in other words. Now, all of you are very, very bright."
All the little lights sparkled and danced with joy at the compliment and said: "Continue with your story, yellow lights."
"When they lighted us we were bright of course, even though it was the daytime and even though it is at night that we really show our brightness."
"Couldn't we show it in the daytime or rather trying you?" asked the little green lights.
"Do you mean you wonder whether or not we could show our brightness in the daytime?" asked the little yellow lights.
"That's what we mean," said the little green lights.
"In a way we could," said the little yellow lights, "but not as we could at night. You see at night it is very dark and then we can show off our brightness. But in the daytime it is very bright anyway and our brightness doesn't count for much."
"In a way we think that is fair," said the little green lights.
"What do you mean by that?" asked the little blue lights.
"We think it is both fair and rather lovely," said the little green lights, "that in the daytime Mr. Sun is the bright one, and that the work of dear Mother Nature is so much greater than the work of people. For we're made by people, invented by people, lighted by people."
"That's so," said the little blue lights. "You're bright, little green lights."
"But," said the little green lights, "we interrupted the story. We want to hear what the little yellow lights heard as they were being tested, or tried out, or whatever they called it, this afternoon."
"Tell us what you heard, yellow lights," all the other lights shouted.
"We heard," said the little yellow lights, "that the town was having a birthday. Now that is very much more wonderful evidently than when creatures have birthdays, or it is more wonderful, at any rate, than when most creatures have birthdays."
"So they're decorating the town all up, and here, in the center, in this square, they've put all of us small sparkling lights because we'll make the town look so gay and so pretty and so merry and so dancing."
"Is that the way the town wants to look?" asked the little green lights.
"Of course," said the little yellow lights, "for on a birthday every one wants to feel happy and joyful."
So far the little lights had been sparkling brightly and then less brightly, but what should they hear now but a band and then they saw a procession coming down the street. Oh, how they danced and sparkled and the little different lights helped so much in the town's birthday celebration.

TO OFFER REWARD FOR ASSASSINS

ACTING GOVERNOR TRAPP EXPECTED TO OFFER REWARD FOR RAGLAND SLAYERS IN SEMINOLE CO.

By News' Special Service
OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 5.—Acting Governor Trapp is expected to issue a proclamation today offering a reward for the apprehension of the murderer or murderers of Thomas Ragland, Seminole county resident, whose body was found four miles south of Konawa Friday morning.
Telegraphic dispatches from Konawa yesterday indicated that the note found in Ragland's clothing indicating that he had been slain because of his activity in war work, was merely a blind to cover another motive. Two other members of the Seminole county council of defense and draft board received similar notes but the Seminole county authorities are of the opinion that the note writing was a part of an elaborate plan to throw suspicion upon suspected disloyalists.
Seminole county was the center of what was facetiously referred to as "The Roastin' Ear Rebellion" in August, 1917. The Working Class Union, an organization declared to be almost identical with the Industrial Workers of the World, had been active in Seminole, Pontotoc and Pottawatomie counties for several weeks. "Locals" were organized at various rural school houses and leaders were elected who were expected to pilot the membership in a well directed plan of resistance to the draft and all other war measures.
The first outbreak occurred when two Seminole county deputy sheriffs were fired upon in the Little River country. Armed men burned railroad bridges, cut telegraph and telephone lines and threatened to overturn the government. In the midst of the rebellion warning was sent to the town of Konawa that a mob was advancing upon it to seize stores of ammunition and firearms and burn the town. A special train was run from Ada and a posse of officers, including more than 150 men, went to the relief of Konawa. The backbone of the rebellion, it indeed, it had any spine, was broken when a posse charged a large band of supposed members who were feasting upon "roastin' ears" on a bald knob in the Little River country. It was a bloodless battle, and scores of suspects were rounded up. After the bald knob incident arrests came thick and fast until more than 200 defendants faced Federal Judge Campbell in the United States district court at Ardmore in November. All of these eventually pleaded guilty to various charges of conspiracy, disloyalty and draft resistance. Many of those who were known to have been drawn into the rebellion through ignorance were dismissed with fines and warnings. The others received sentences ranging from thirty and sixty days' imprisonment in county jails to sixteen years in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas.

OFFICIALS DEFEND COST PLUS SYSTEM

ADMINISTRATION CLAIMS THAT THE PRESSING NEED OF THE ARMY DURING THE WAR MADE IT NECESSARY.

By News' Special Service:
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Efforts of the McKenzie sub-committee of the House Committee on Military Affairs to show that the "cost plus" system of letting contracts for construction of army camps was a costly experiment now promises to end in failure. The committee has developed little in support of that contention, and recent testimony before the house investigators was that a large number of large business concerns throughout the country have adopted the policy since the war of letting construction contracts on the cost-plus plan, rather than lump sum, basis.
The McKenzie sub-committee is one of the several "smelling committees" named by the republicans of the house to investigate the conduct of the war and the administration of Secretary Baker. This particular sub-committee is charged specifically with an inquiry into construction costs at the various cantonments, and early in its hearings began to attack indirectly and directly the cost-plus contracts.
When it became necessary at the outbreak of the war to hurriedly construct more than two dozen national army and national guard camps in various sections of the country, the construction division of the quartermaster's department did not have sufficient organization to permit the government itself to build such a large number of cantonments. Consequently, since time was the important factor, the department called upon various contractors to put their already perfected organizations at the service of the government.
Contracts for such buildings were made on the basis of cost, plus a fee for the services of the skilled organization of the contractors. The government paid for materials and carried on its own payrolls the organization of the contractor. The government also had army officers at each cantonment to see that the contractors complied with the specifications.
On completion of the cantonment, the contractor and various sub-contractors received a fee which was a small percentage of the total cost of the camp. It was stipulated that the maximum fee in any case should not exceed $250,000. As a rule, testimony before the house committee has shown that the army camps cost-plus system worked advantageously to the government and the virtual drafting of the contractors' organizations throughout the United States saved both time and money.

One of the recent witnesses before the house investigating sub-committee was former Lt. Col. J. Norman Pease, who was quartermaster at Camp Gordon, Georgia. Colonel Pease was commissioned in the construction division because of his ability as an engineer and builder and was summoned to Washington to accept the commission early in the war. Since his discharge he has formed a connection with one of the greatest engineering concerns in the United States.
Members of the house committee asked Lt. Col. Pease, who testified after his discharge and as a civilian, if he did not regard the cost-plus system as a bad thing.
"I think the cost-plus system was of advantage to the government at Camp Gordon and elsewhere," said Mr. Pease. "Under the cost-plus plan a contractor is not forced to make excessively high bids to take care of possible setbacks and contingencies. As an illustration, the terrain at Camp Gordon produced three different grades for the laying of sewers, and so on, and surveys had to be made. A contractor bidding on a lump sum would have protected himself on this bidding so high that he could not lose on account of this extra work. Under the cost-plus plan, the government had the work done at the cheapest possible figure, and for a small fee, and did not have to pay for a private contractor's contingencies."
Mr. Pease testified also that many cost-plus contracts are today being let by the big business concerns of the country, including certain cotton mills and power companies. He told the house committee that he did not think the war department could be criticised for making such contracts.

On the other hand, he said a maximum fee limit and the saving of time in constructing the camps ensured to the benefit of the government and its soldiers, in order to expedite work, he said, a general contractor for a camp would frequently call in a half-dozen associates, large builders, who would be assigned to certain work in the camp, the whole machinery working expeditiously and honestly for economical and speedy construction.

It Pays The Farmer To Advertise In The News

How may the producer and consumer be brought closer together? This question has received a great deal of attention since the high cost of living became the problem of the day. When I was in the newspaper business I often suggested that a most excellent means of accomplishing this was for the producer to advertise his products in the columns of the local paper. Since becoming a producer myself, I have fully demonstrated the correctness of my opinion through the Evening News.

Four months ago when my wife and I took up our abode on Hoot Owl Ranch we began to advertise our products, when we had anything we could not dispose of readily, or when we had a surplus of any particular product. Never once have we failed to get good returns on the few cents each little ad cost. That, too, in the face of the fact that we had no phone. After installing a phone and we could be reached easily, sales were still better. It is evident that every line in the Evening News is read and that consumers are eager to buy produce fresh from the producer and all the more readily when they know who the producer is. Yes, advertising pays good dividends and can be used to the best possible advantage in bringing producer and consumer together.

SAUCE FOR THE HE GOOSE

It makes a whole lot of difference whose ox is gored, as Noah Webster remarked in our early days. For a dozen years Oklahoma Democrats have been furiously denouncing the alleged practice of Oklahoma Republicans in coming into Democratic primaries to nominate such candidates as would easily be defeated in the general elections. Comes now the Republican papers of Oklahoma in general and the Tulsa World in particular complaining of the alleged fact that Democrats have horned into the Republican national committeeman fight and are pulling wires for Jake Hamon.

We rather suspect that a lot of Democrats have been taking undue liberties with the candidacy of both Hamon and McGraw. It is natural for freemen of palestric temperament to take a hand in an inviting scrimmage, and we have never witnessed a combat more inviting than the one now being waged by our esteemed friends, the G. O. P.'s. However reprehensible the practice may be, there is a big palliation for the offense in this exciting instance. Howbeit the same aforesaid Noah Webster tells another tale of old Tray getting his tail mashed for getting into bad company.

But take it from us, our fellow countrymen, if the Democrats have contracted an evil habit, they caught the disease from their G. O. P. neighbors, against whom the doctrine of estoppel will now run. As was remarked so long ago by the immortal Sut Lovingood: "What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the he-goose." If it be treason for the Daily Ardmoreite to publish a sob edition boosting Jake, for the Daily Oklahoman to whoop 'em up for Jim, what was the character of the crime committed by the Republicans of Oklahoma when they so unanimously and so flatteringly referred to the meretricious cause of the cow bandit of the Spike S Ranch, when Al Jennings thought he was running for governor? And what will you say, Sir Angus, of the daily diatribes against Scott Ferris now being run in the Tulsa World?

If the present protest is a genuine one and not the merest pretense of political opportunism, the Republicans of Oklahoma have a splendid chance to terminate political party intermeddling for all time. The Democrats have been ready for such a step for the past one dozen annuus.

Come to think of it, it is only 208 days since the peace treaty was submitted to the senate.

Our idea of nothing to print is a published account of a controversy between Samuel Gompers and Tom Blanton of Texas.

Prince Freeling achieved another first class distinction Saturday. He was the first man in Oklahoma to be run over by a female steam-roller.

Will some political mathematician please tell us how much easier it will be for the Republicans to carry Oklahoma than it is for them to elect a national committeeman.

The approaching primary will be warmly welcomed by the sporting element of Ada, inasmuch as public sentiment and the high laws have put a quietus on badger fighting.

A Mexican was killed in San Antonio the first of the week. It is now up to the Jingoos of Old Mexico to start an agitation for Mexican intervention in the United States.

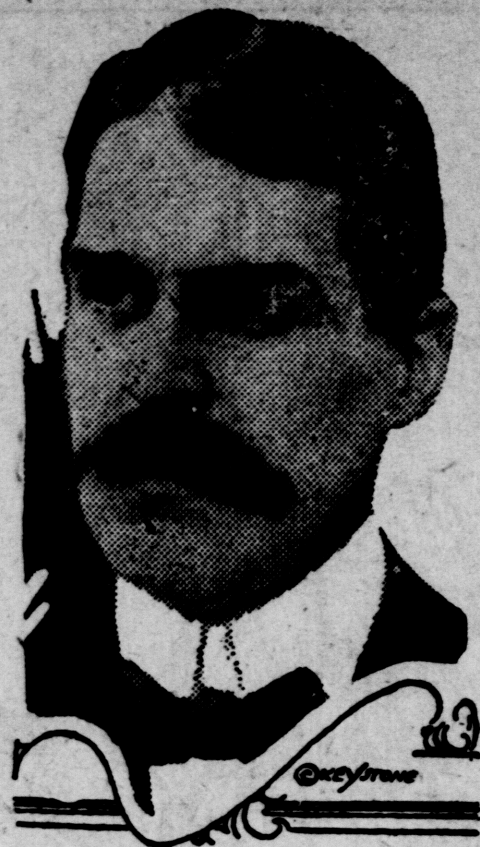

We believe that the entire country is now fed up on congressional investigations. Why doesn't President Wilson apologize for winning the war and stop all these investigations?

A headline of yesterday says that the United States senate will wake up next week. If it doesn't wake up pretty soon, it will have one great awakening coming to it next November.

As we understand the literal meaning of the term a Sinn Feiner is one who believes that Ireland has the right to secede from Great Britain, but that Ulster has no right whatever to secede from Ireland.

An indignant contemporary asks why it was necessary for the senate to nose into European affairs by passing a resolution endorsing the Thracian claims of Greece against Bulgaria. Not necessary at all, but there are several thousand Greek voters in the Eastern states and no Bulgars at all.

FLY SWATTER FACTORY TO BE BUILT AT ONCE

By the Associated Press
CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 3.—A fly swatter factory is to be established under the auspices of the Cincinnati Public Health federation. It is planned to start the industry for the benefit of the convalescents discharged from the tuberculosis hospital and not yet strong enough to compete in the ranks of labor and business. Fly swatters made by the convalescents are to be sold largely to sanitariums throughout the country and for use in health crusades, so that by such sales the products of the plant will help lessen the spread and infection and the number of victims.

AUTHOR OF NEW HYLAND SCENARIO A NOTED WRITER

Charles Mortimer Peck, who wrote the scenario of "Cheating Herself," the new play in which Peggy Hyland is the star, is known to most readers of magazines. His light fiction has amused many thousands. His stories are usually filled with wholesome humor, for his fun-making imagination is boundless.

Mr. Peck has contributed especially—and liberally—to Everybody's Magazine, the Saturday Evening Post, and the Cosmopolitan Magazine. His first venture with a Peggy Hyland comedy is "Cheating Herself," which is due at the American Theatre Wednesday.

The plot of "Cheating Herself," is said to be exceedingly original and amusing. It tells the story of a millionaire's daughter who feels that time is too precious to be wasted on afternoon teas and card parties. She wants to lead the simple life and attend to her personal needs herself. She also believes that in a life of labor her parents can find greater contentment and happiness. So she contrives to rob her family of their fortune, so that poverty may enable her to realize her fondest wish. Many funny things happen as a result. And incidentally Cupid participates in the development of the story—coming in strong on the closing climax.

STRAY DOG ATTACKS AND BITES YOUNG GIRL

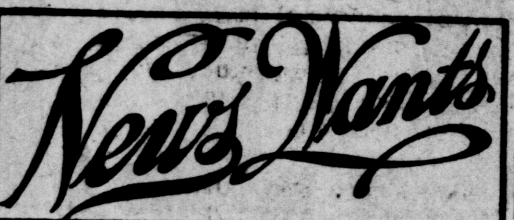

Mildred, eleven year old daughter of L. H. Woodward, was bitten on the arm yesterday by a stray dog. The child was at the home of A. H. Constant on 12th and Rennie when attacked by one of the many stray animals that inhabit this neighborhood. Mrs. Constant's daughter noticed the dog as it approached the child and rushed to her rescue and by her quick action in driving away the dog probably saved the little girl from a very serious injury, if not from being killed.

Mayor Kitchens was immediately notified and Wick Adair came and shot the animal. The people of this neighborhood have been complaining of several stray dogs, which are a detriment to the safety of their children and if these are owned by anyone, the owners are cautioned to keep them up.

This Bottle Made A Long Voyage But Finally Gets Ashore

By the Associated Press
BELLE PLANE, Kan., Feb. 3.—Miss Alma Lane of Belle Plaine, in August, 1916, threw a tightly corked bottle containing a slip of paper bearing her name and address, into the Ninescah river, near here. Recently—three and a half years after launching the bottle—she received a letter from R. S. Baldwin, an engineer for the Puget Sound Light and Power company, Seattle, Wash., stating that he had picked up the bottle while boat riding on Washington Lake canal near Seattle.

"Evidently the three and a half year journey of the bottle took it down the Ninescah to the Arkansas river, thence to the Mississippi, out into the Gulf of Mexico, around Cape Horn and up along the Pacific coast to Seattle," said Miss Lane. "I don't believe by a chance it could have made its way through the Panama canal."

TAXIDERMIST AT WORK ON BIG ADA ELEPHANT FRAME

NORMAN, Feb. 2.—Imagine, if you can, a menagerie where all is still and death-like, where the wild animals are not wild, where elephant and mouse, bob-cat and rabbit stand side by side, entirely unafraid and unconscious of each other.

That will be the situation in the University of Oklahoma's silent zoo one of these days when Edward D. Crabb, university taxidermist, completes the mounting of the university collection of animals and birds. It will contain two elephants, a buffalo, elk, coyotes, bob-cats, ostrich, and most other animals native to Oklahoma.

The elephants and ostrich were obtained from Bill Newton's animal shows which are wintering at Ada. They failed to weather a recent cold spell, consequently were transferred from the noisy to the silent zoo.

The elk and buffalo were obtained from the Wichita national game and forest preserve near Lawton and were the gifts of Frank Rush, superintendent there. He and Crabb killed the elk on a recent hunt in the preserve. They stalked the animal four days in the mountains before getting close enough for a fatal shot.

The elk was about 8 years old, weighed 1000 pounds, and wore antlers measuring 3 feet, 7 inches from tip to tip. He was one of about 75 elk which run wild in the preserve containing 61,641 acres, all surrounded by a 7 foot fence.

The buffalo came from a herd of 120 in the preserve.

Rush also contributed one of the bob-cats. He had killed it a few days before the elk hunt.

Collection and mounting of birds has been under way here for several years under the direction of H. H. Lane, head of the zoology department. It now contains practically all varieties of the feathered kingdom.

The mounted specimens are used by zoology students in comparative study.

HAD TERRIBLE COUGH IN BED 3 YEARS

In 3 weeks, she was out on the street again, feeling fine.

"In 1916, I had la grippe, followed by pneumonia which left me with a severe cough. I coughed constantly from morning till night, and then would wake up in the night and cough and choke. I lost flesh and my appetite was very poor. I doctored with a specialist for over a year, and had several other doctors, but got worse instead of better. Last winter I was bed-ridden, had chills and fever and got so weak I could not sit up in bed 3 minutes without fainting. In February, 1919, I started on Milks Emulsion. I was in bed, but in 3 weeks, I was able to be up and on the streets. Just think of it! For 3 years I have been a physical wreck, in bed most of the time, and Milks Emulsion had brought me out in wonderful shape. My friends all tell me how well I'm looking, for they didn't expect me to be living today."

—Miss M. Russell, 1003 Opelousas St., Algiers, La.

In thousands of just such cases, Milks Emulsion has brought the same wonderful relief and improvement. It costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, promotes appetite and puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build up flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are usually relieved in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six or ten home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. U.S. NOT TO TAKE OVER BOOZE WORK

LOCAL OFFICERS ARE STILL RESPONSIBLE TO GOVERNMENT IN LIQUOR LAW ENFORCEMENT.

STILLWATER, Feb. 2.—"It appears that many persons, including local officers, are expecting the federal government to take over the work now being performed by city, county and state officers in the enforcement of liquor laws but this will not be done," says John W. Reece, who has been appointed federal prohibition director for Oklahoma and whose headquarters are at the Payne county court house here.

The federal prohibition officials will co-operate at all times with city, county and state officers in the strict enforcement of both the state and federal prohibition laws.

John F. Kramer of Washington, D. C., is national prohibition commissioner; David A. Gates of Little Rock, Ark., is federal prohibition supervisor of the district composed of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Texas and New Mexico. Supervisor Gates will also have an office at Oklahoma City. He will have under his supervision in Oklahoma a limited number of field men, called agents, who will constitute a mobile policing force. State Director Reece will have charge of several inspectors who will check up the records of all druggists and physicians and who will report on conditions in the state.

Citizens knowing of local violations should report the matter to the local officers. It is only where local officers will not or cannot enforce the state prohibitory laws that the federal force will investigate and prosecute. It is expected that often it may be necessary that prosecution be made under both the state law and the national prohibition act.

State Director Reece will have charge of the permissive features of the federal law, such as alcoholic permits, and will take over the work in this respect which has formerly been done by the revenue collector. Mr. Reece says that there have been a great many applications for positions as enforcement officers, but that all appointments will be made by the commissioner at Washington. Preference will be given to men with war service.

The federal prohibition director is desirous of meeting with local officers of the state and with civic and religious organizations. He has already received many requests for such meetings.

The prohibition amendment to the constitution of the United States prohibits the manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicating liquors, and provides that congress and the several states shall have concurrent power to enforce the same by appropriate legislation. The national prohibition act was passed in October and became operative January 16. Any liquid or compound which contains as much as one-half of one per cent of alcohol by volume and which is fit for use as a beverage is under the ban. Certain medical preparations may be manufactured and marketed, in case they are unfit for beverage purposes. Possession of any liquor is prima facie evidence that it is kept for the purpose of violating the law. The advertising, manufacturing, selling or possessing for sale of any utensil, contrivance, machine, compound, tablet or recipe designated or intended for use in the unlawful manufacture of liquor is prohibited. A penalty of a fine and imprisonment is provided for the violators of the law.

WOULD ESTABLISH NEW GAME FARMS

BIRD AND ANIMAL INDUSTRY OF OKLAHOMA TO BE DEVELOPED BY FISH AND GAME WARDEN

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 2.—Ben Watt, state game and fish warden, outlines his 1920 program as follows:

"I am planning placing a game farm in connection with every Oklahoma state institution. In all, there are 35 of these, and already I have received notice from the superintendents, or presidents, of some of them saying that they are enthusiastic over the plan and are ready and willing to enter heartily into the scheme. At almost every state institution, there are persons who are much interested in the raising of animals and fowls. The cost of maintenance would be little and the work of caring for game would be practically nothing.

"My idea is to have each institution set apart a tract of land, a small tract if necessary, a large one if possible, this tract to be fenced with such fencing as would fill the requirements of such game as they cared to raise, or attempt to raise. A woven wire fence would be necessary for fowls and such coops and houses as would be necessary for protecting the fowls.

"I would stock these little farms with such things as they needed; deer, if the tract of land was sufficiently large, quail, pheasants, wild ducks and geese, wild turkeys, Hungarian partridges, etc.

"While so far, we have not been successful with pheasant raising, I am not yet ready to give it up. By having these little game farms, it would enable us to keep in close touch with the game we put out, see how they succeeded, and why they failed, and what was the cause of the failure, if they did fail.

"This would not only afford amusement and recreation for the persons at these institutions, but would in time create a great interest in the communities in which they were placed. It seems to me that it would be a cheap, interesting and profitable way of finding out just what game did well in certain localities and what did well in others.

"It is my idea to have a lake or tank placed in each of these little farms and we would keep them stocked with such fish as their waters were best adapted to. These lakes or tanks would be fine for ducks and geese, as well as furnishing a supply of fish for the institution."

Kidney disorders cause much distress of mind and body. Such ailments should not be neglected because they lead to diseases that are dangerous. Prickly Ash Bitters is a fine kidney tonic. It strengthens the kidneys and purifies the stomach and bowels. Price $1.25 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., Special Agents.

MAN AT NORMAN SUCCEEDS ON A 10 - ACRE TRACT

NORMAN, Feb. 2.—Chickens, vegetables and fruit trees form the best paying combination for a ten acre suburban farm, according to J. H. Craven, landscape gardener at the University of Oklahoma. Craven operates such a farm adjoining the campus of the university for E. B. Johnson, Norman banker.

In two years time, Craven has improved a five-acre orchard containing peach, apple, pear, plum, apricot and cherry trees, half of the other five acres is given over to vegetables and berries and half to chickens. The farm supplies its own wheat, oats and alfalfa for the chickens.

The vegetable crop is arranged so that some variety is being harvested all the time from early spring to late fall. At least two crops are raised on each plot of ground. Potatoes weighing from seven to nine pounds each were produced last year. The potato crop was placed on wind racks in a cellar for preservation.

No slackers are allowed among the fruit trees. Craven removed some of the old trees when he took over the farm and as fast as they begin to die he replaces the others with young trees. In this way the orchard will never stop producing. The chicken yard also is no place for slackers. It contains a flock of 150 white leghorn chickens. Each hen is numbered and a careful record is kept of all eggs. None producers soon leave the flock for the chopping block. Craven also has a flock of wild mallard ducks. Their wings are clipped so they cannot fly.

Alcohol Is Liquor Court Rules While Man Freed Laughs

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 1.—Alcohol comes within "spirituous" liquors in Oklahoma, the criminal court of appeals ruled. Its possession for other than constitutional purposes is unlawful. In so ruling the court reversed the opinion of R. B. Forest, county judge of Canadian county, who acquitted T. Kollar on April 14, 1917, of violating the law. But Kollar should worry. He was acquitted, and the question is merely of academic interest to him. He can shake himself by the hand that the judge did not hold him under bond while the question was settled.

out of four. Let not the pastors and members of exceptional congregations blindly question the general validity of these estimates. Withal, we have thousands of settled communities without a single church. In Ohio for example, the recent Methodist Episcopal survey has discovered scores of townships, six miles square, without a single resident minister. To wicked waste we add woeful inefficiency.

"In our division," said Dr. Peach, "our people are groaning under the burdens caused thereby, and under the reproach of incompetency, not only, but the unchurched masses ignore our weakened testimony and reject our appeal; our problems are multiplied, our fellowship is marred, our Lord is dishonored. These are the conditions organic unity is set to cure."

The Rev. William H. Black, D. D., of the Presbyterian church, Marshall, Mo., another member of the Ad Interim Committee, in a minority report, advocated the use of the terminology of the United States government for characterizing the proposed new united church and opposed a "restatement of the fundamental doctrines of Christian belief," declaring that "all evangelical churches recognize and teach that the Holy Scriptures are the inspired word of God and are the only infallible rule of faith and practice."

Other suggestions and minority reports which will be presented to the council were made by the Rev. John S. Romig of the Moravian Church, and Alfred C. Garrett of the Society of Friends, both of Philadelphia. Invitations have been extended to 12 other Protestant denominations, making 34 in all, to become members of the conference planning organic union.

the mind of Christ and hasten the coming of his Kingdom."

Emphasis is placed by the committee on the "federal union" feature of the proposed amalgamation. "It is an organic union," the report says, "that has the vital principle of growth and development. The Council has definite functions and duties and these functions and duties may from time to time be developed in like manner as the functions of our Federal government in the United States may from time to time, by Constitutional amendment, be modified or enlarged."

The proposed Constitution of the United Church of America, as revised, sets forth the following as its Article of Faith:

"The United Church of Christ not adopting any symbol or creed, recognizes in the historic creeds of the evangelical communions varying expressions of their common Christian faith. It avows their common belief in God the Father, Infinite in wisdom, goodness and love; and in Jesus Christ, His Son, our Lord and Saviour, who for us and for our salvation lived and died and rose again and liveth evermore; in the Holy Spirit, who taketh of the things of Christ and revealeth them to us, renewing, comforting, and inspiring the souls of men; in the Holy Scriptures by which the will of God is revealed; in the Church, the living body of Christ; in the sacrament of baptism and the Lord's Supper, instituted by Christ and committed by him to the Church; and in life eternal beyond the grave. It accords its members both as groups and as individuals in all lesser matters that broad liberty 'wherewith Christ hath set us free'."

Each local church belonging to the United Church will have authority over the following: (a) control of property held by it; (b) the terms of admission of members on confession of faith; (c) the time and modes of administering the Sacraments; (d) the initiative in the settling or dismissal of a pastor; (e) the forms of worship used; (f) discipline of members; (g) the causes to which it shall contribute and the amounts to be given.

In the interest of "fraternity, order and union of effort" each church also agrees (1) to receive into its membership, without other condition, any person bearing a certificate of dismission from any church of the United Church; (2) it will maintain the stated observance of the sacraments of baptism, the Lord's Supper and administer baptism by immersion for those who desire that form; (3) it will recognize the authority of a District Council and participate in its meeting through statedly chosen delegates.

Local churches, according to the plan, will be grouped geographically into District Councils of varying sizes. Each church will be represented in the Council by its pastor and one delegate, with an additional delegate for each 100 members or major fraction thereof. The District Council's duties will include the ordination of ministers and it will have "the power of discipline or expulsion under conditions prescribed by the National Conference." It also will have the power to "terminate the membership of any

SECRETARY OF NAVY TAKES ISSUE WITH ADMIRAL IN DISPUTE OVER MEDAL
AWARDS

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Taking up the contentions of Rear Admiral Wm. S. Sims, in the matter of naval medal awards point by point Secretary Daniels in his appearance today before the senate investigating sub-committee took direct and emphatic issue with the admiral. Flanked by voluminous records from the navy department, the Secretary went into detail in explaining changes he made in conferring decorations as recommended by the commanding officers of the navy and by the Knight Board of naval awards.

The secretary outlined to the committee the two chief differences between his views and the views held by Admiral Sims in the awarding of medals. These were at variance as to the importance of service at sea compared with service on shore and difference in the question of whether a distinguished service medal should be awarded under any circumstances to a commander of a ship sunk or seriously damaged by enemy submarine or mines.

Figures were presented by Mr. Daniels showing that, during the last 25 years Admiral Sims had served about 16 years on shore duty and 9 years at sea. As justifying his contention that individual duty ashore are necessarily of secondary importance to duties afloat, Mr. Daniels asserted:

"On shore a man decides important questions in the quiet of office surroundings and if he makes a mistake his error or decision is not immediately followed by disastrous results. At sea, particularly in submarine warfare, the commander like all his men, is in imminent danger of death."

With this as an impelling reason the secretary said he disapproved of this disparity between honors to men ashore and afloat as recommended by the Knight Board and accordingly reduced or eliminated a number of awards for shore service.

In support of his contention that a commander of a ship sunk or damaged by a submarine attack was entitled to a medal if he showed proper qualifications even though his ship was unable to come back at the submarine, Secretary Daniels cited numerous examples in American naval history and also pointed to instance of such awards by the French Government during the world war.

Emphatic denial was made by the Secretary of Admiral Sims statement that the policy followed in awards "had shot to pieces" the navy morale.

"It is an insult to the splendid men of the navy to say that the morale of the service could be seriously impaired by any question of awards to individuals. Their loyalty is in no sense dependent upon medals."

Militant Leader In Woman's Rights Cause Passes Away

News of the death at her home in Shawnee yesterday of Miss Aloysius Larchmiller, communicated to Mrs. Marvin Brown and other friends in the city by long distance telephone, came as a most distinct shock, as it will to hundreds of others throughout the state.

Only a week ago Miss Larchmiller was at the state convention of democratic women at Oklahoma City and in the bloom of health, and little did her friends expect that she would thus soon be called to her reward. The dread flu epidemic caught her in its world-wide stalk of death and she only lived a few hours after being stricken. Funeral services are being conducted today in Shawnee.

Miss Larchmiller was known far and wide beyond the confines of her own bailiwick for the very good reason that she was more than an ordinary person. First, she was endowed with all the natural graces characteristic of refinement and good breeding, but in addition to that she was a young woman whose soul was consumed with a vision and an ideal rarely found in the life of the average American girl.

She came into prominence largely during the stirring days of the great war and distinguished herself for her patriotism and seal in behalf of the various war activities of her own community and of the state at large.

She was a militant worker for the cause of equal suffrage, and notwithstanding the fact that she was comparatively a young woman, she had more than once matched her wits with the politicians in power and high places only to prove that she was an antagonist worthy the steel of the most formidable opponent.

Miss Larchmiller was an exception in her day and age, an ambitious young woman who enlisted early in the army that fights unselfishly for the common good, and her demise will prove a distinct loss to the highest common interests of the state at large, and especially those of the women.

Only One Bath In City Of Ada In Nineteen Four

In the office of the Evening News there is a City Directory of Ada published in 1904. The briefest glance at its pages will show the vast difference between Ada of sixteen years ago and Ada as it is today.

The city administration of 1904 consisted of I. M. King, Tom D. McKeown, and Lem Mitchell, as mayor, city attorney, and marshal. The board of aldermen consisted of C. C. Hargis, W. S. Kerr, George Harrison, Jack Shirley, and C. P. Little, G. F. Johnson was recorder.

The city had two ward schools in 1904, employing thirteen teachers. J. A. Hendrix was superintendent. Miss Lucy Killingsworth was principal of the "North School" and Miss Eleanor Warren was principal of the "High School". The only man connected with the schools was the superintendent.

There were five churches in Ada in 1904: viz; Baptist, Christian, Cumberland Presbyterian, Methodist and Presbyterian. The pastors were J. A. Williams, Presbyterian, J. B. McDonald, Methodist, G. P. Howard, Cumberland, and Elder Crane Christian. The name of the Baptist pastor is not given.

The newspapers of sixteen years ago were the Daily and Weekly News published by Carleton Weaver & Co. and the Weekly Star, published by W. W. Higgins and A. B. Yeager. The motto of the News is given as "Keep at it—Do it now." The Star is advertised as "a paper with a conscience." The News is still at it, while the paper with a conscience could not survive.

The real curiosity of the directory is "The University of Central America." It was located at 102 1-2 East Main and gave instruction in everything from a, b, c, to A. B. Jas. Armstrong was president and Wm. L. Newby dean of the law department. The Ada Business College is also listed as an educational institution.

The Harris Hotel is listed as the city's leading hotel and a cut shows it to have been a two story affair. H. E. Parnell was proprietor. The three banks were The Ada National, Citizens National, and First National. Two pool halls were listed. Under the head of "Bath Rooms" only one was listed—that of L. J. Crowder. Possibly there were others. W. C. Duncan, now among the county's leading attorneys, was listed as head of the W. C. Duncan & Company, Furniture and Undertaking.

Marshal Foch says he won the fight by smoking his pipe—presumably meaning that with the assistance of Lady Nicotine he made better plans than he would otherwise have been capable of. If the plans of the Anti-Tobacco League bear fruit, the next generalissimo in the next great war will have no pipe to inspire him.

If you have business out of town

Every little while, you haven't any business buying an O'coat that won't look well a long time.

Of course, when you are home here, we all know you are a solid citizen and a stock holder at the Oklahoma State Bank but in other climes your assets are judged by appearance.

This isn't any argument why you shouldn't have a splendid big coat to wear around home—but it is a first rate reason why you should look the part when you travel.

The "L. of J." Hike.
The "L. of J." boys experienced a pleasant hike yesterday. They left the Christian Church a little after four and hiked to the brick plant. There was quite a company of them. They spent most of their time sliding down the steep declivity which proved great sport. When the boys grew thirsty they went to the brick plant for a drink. Here some of them became interested in the process of brick making and their leader, C. V. Dunn, took pains to show the boys as much of the process as possible. They saw the rough clay ground fine and the hardest portions eliminated; they saw the clay in the molding process, and then carried to the big kilns. Here they saw them being placed in order ready to be burned. After this they saw the bricks in another kiln being burned with gas fire; finally they saw the finished product, a fine red brick, ready for use. Thus the hike was made profitable as well as pleasant.

Soon after this they roasted their weinles and ate their evening lunch on top of the hill. This part of the hike was enjoyed very much.

Just before starting for home Mr. Dunn spoke briefly to the boys about the goodness of God in making such a wonderful world with such wonderful possibilities for pleasure and usefulness, and showed the boys that they ought to be very thankful to Him.

After salute and prayer, all journeyed homeward feeling that they had had a good time.

The New York Sun, which has fought the President on the treaty question, says that the Jackson Day letter from the White House was "worthy of Old Hickory himself," in that there was nothing "irresolute, evasive or crawfishy" in it, and showing on the contrary that "there is something of Andrew Jackson in Woodrow Wilson's refusal to accept the action of the senate as the decision of the nation."
